Apollo Rebuild Delays Moonshot

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's man-to-the-moon program faced further delay today to allow time to overcome workmanship and management deficiencies revealed in a blue-ribbon board's final report on the spacecraft fire that killed three U.S. astronauts.

The eight-man board which spent seven weeks in an exhaustive investigation of the Apollo 1 tragedy said it uncovered "many deficiencies in design and engineering, manufacture and quality control."

The report recommended a major overhaul of Apollo spacecraft, including a quick-escape hatch, fewer combustible items inside the moonship, and a review of components in Apollo electrical, communications and life-support systems.

House and Senate Space Committee members said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and its contractors should take time to correct the ills.

"These deficiencies must be catalogued and corrected and must not be repeated," said Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., chairman of the Senate Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committee.

Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., whose subcommittee on NASA oversight begins its own Apollo 1 investigation today, said "there were all kinds of carelessness, and some of it was unbelievable."

The Apollo 1 board-of-review said in its final report released Sunday that a bruised or broken wire most likely sparked the blaze that killed Air Force Lt. Cols. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee in a launch pad test Jan. 27.

While "no single ignition source could be conclusively identified," the report said the probable cause was either an electrical arc or short circuit in "DC (direct current) wiring . . . providing power to environmental control system instrumentation."

An electrical arc is a band of sparks between two closely placed electrical sources, such as open ends of a broken or bruised wire.

In its 3,000-page final report, the board said the fire is believed to have started in the left-hand equipment bay, beneath Grissom's couch, where the suspected wiring was located.

First B52s In Thailand; Hit Commie's Camp

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. command today reported a sharp increase in ground actions throughout Vietnam with 315 Communists killed in the preceding 24 hours.

The first wave of three B52 bombers to be based in Thailand arrived there today from Guam after dropping 180,000 pounds of bombs on a suspected Communist camp only 31 miles from Saigon.

Nine more B52s will move to Utapao Air Base, in southern Thailand, later this month, cutting their round-trip time for raids on South Vietnam from 12 hours to less than three.

The ground action included a sharp barrage of recoilless rifle shells on the U.S. 25th Infantry Division headquarters at Cu Chi, about 25 miles northwest of Saigon. The predawn shelling, which killed three American soldiers and wounded 20, was the second in two days. The helicopter-borne U.S. 1st cavalry, Airmobile, Division headquarters at An Khe was hit Sunday.

American pilots flew 96 missions over North Vietnam Sunday despite bad weather. All-weather jets hit the Thai Nguyen steel plant 35 miles from Hanoi and other raids struck antiaircraft missile sites 30 miles from the Red capitol.

Heavy ground fighting raged 20 miles southwest of Saigon after U.S. 9th Division soldiers flushed a major force of Viet Cong guerrillas in a running two-day fight. Battlefield reports listed 166 Viet Cong dead from infantry, air and artillery pounding.

The battle erupted Sunday when a 9th Division sweeping force ran into skirmishes of a 750 - man guerrilla battalion. Planes and artillery began pounding the Reds, who scattered with units of the 9th in pursuit. Heavy fighting was reported several times throughout Sunday night and this morning.

Continuing the sweep in the muddy delta paddylands, the 9th Division reported it was again in heavy contact this afternoon, with jet strikes and artillery again pouring in.

Lines Halt Trucks In Tiff With Teamsters

Radio-TV Strike Settled But Members Must Vote

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators reached a tentative settlement today in the nation's first radio and television strike that put celebrities on picket lines and programming on a schedule of old films and reruns. The strike began March 29.

Terms of the agreement between the American Federation of Radio and Television Artists and ABC, CBS and NBC were not revealed pending a union vote, but shirt-sleeved bargainers laughed and shook hands as the settlement was announced at 6 a.m. today after a session that began at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Pickets still walked outside NBC at Rockefeller Center in New York City, however, and mediators would not say if the lines would be withdrawn. No date was announced for the union vote on acceptance.

Still On, Says Picket

"The strike is still on," one picket said.

Immediately involved in the settlement was the fate of the motion picture Academy Award show, scheduled for tonight on ABC. It was not known if arrangements could be made to broadcast the show.

Observers said a break in the talks came at 3 a.m. when the parties met jointly with federal mediator Ralph C. Patterson. They talked for an hour and 20 minutes then separated with a network spokesman, announcing: "The union people will call us when they want us."

Diet Of Reruns

Both sides joined the mediators again at 5:30 a.m. and within 30 minutes the settlement was announced. Said Patterson: "Following almost 24 hours of bargaining, the parties have reached tentative agreement subject to ratification by the national board of AFTRA."

The strike pressed a diet of canned shows on TV viewers and late last week when engineers refused to cross AFTRA picket lines forced supervisory personnel to take over technical duties. The results at times were wavering sound, blurred pictures and missed cues.

Writers, cameramen and even motorcycle messengers at network pivot points stayed away from their jobs in sympathy with the 18,000-man striking union whose pickets included such celebrities as John Daly, Fran Allison and Ed McMahon.

At issue in the strike were the union's demand for base pay of $325 a week and a greater share of commercial fees for about 100 local newscasters at network-owned stations in New York, Los Angeles and Chicago.

Driver Strikes Lead To Lockout By 1500 Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trucking contract talks resumed today while the spreading effects of a nationwide industry lockout hampered shipments of key commodities.

Federal mediators talked with industry representatives, who began the shutdown of 1,500 major firms Saturday in retaliation to scattered Teamsters Union strikes, then announced that joint negotiations would resume later today.

Informed sources said Trucking Employers Inc., meanwhile, was pressing government officials to invoke an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction to stop its own lockout and the Teamsters' strikes.

Strikes Legal

Both the strikes, which began 10 days ago when the old national trucking contract expired, and the industry lockout are legal, government sources said.

Government officials were gravely concerned about the possibility of simultaneous trucking and railroad shutdowns that would have severe effects on the nation's economy.

But there was still no sign the government planned to stop the trucking shutdown with an injunction, at least until more serious interruption of shipments developed.

High government officials were clearly disturbed over the unique situation raised by the industry's lockout in response to some 40 small Teamsters strikes.

Taft-Hartley Act

The strikes themselves did not appear widespread enough to warrant a finding of peril to the nation's health and safety which would trigger a Taft-Hartley injunction, but the lockout could have such a result.

An industry alone never before has been subjected to a Taft-Hartley injunction.

The tangled situation slowed the pace of negotiations between the industry and the teamsters.

National talks with the Teamsters ended at 4 a.m. Sunday in Washington. Later in the day, Trucking Employers, Inc., a federation accounting for 65 per cent of the U.S. long-distance trucking, called on its 1,500 member firms to lock out their drivers. The federation later termed the order 100 per cent effective.

Call For Talks

The tie-up came amid sporadic drivers' strikes, which began several days ago as negotiations headed toward an impasse. The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said it would meet today with the trucking employers in an effort to get talks moving again.

Truckers' wages range from $3.25 to $5 an hour. They are asking a 7 per cent wage boost.

(Please turn to Page 16, Col. 3)

Close On Wage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Teamsters Union and trucking employers who have locked the drivers out of work are reported less than 10 cents an hour away from a wage agreement — but much farther apart on fringe benefits.

Federal mediators planned to meet today with Trucking Employers, Inc., which claims its shutdown is 100 per cent effective. There was no indication when the employers and the Teamsters might bargain face-to-face.

Two Escanaba Trucking Firms Join Lockout

Offices of the two comercial trucking lines serving the Escanaba area — Olson Transportation Co. and Clairmont Transfer Co. — were closed today in support of the nationwide lockout of truck drivers called by Trucking Employers, Inc.

Both firms are members of the organization, which represents about 1,500 truck lines.

Neither Clairmont or Olson had any trucks moving anywhere. Offices throughout both systems were closed with terminals staffed by only a few management personnel.

Bill Daniels, Escanaba terminal manager for Olson Transportation, said the lockout affects about 1,100 employes in the system which operates from Chicago to Marquette. Irving Olsen, Escanaba general manager for Clairmont, said about 800 employes are affected in Clairmont's five-state system from Louisville, Ky., to the Upper Peninsula.

Early this moring there were no pickets at either office in Escanaba.

The lockout at Clairmont went into affect at midinght Saturday, Olsen said, but because the company had no equipment moving at the time didn't actually take affect until about 6 p.m. Sunday.

Drivers for both firms in Escanaba are members of Teamsters Union Local 328. Of Clairmont's 800 employes, about 350 are drivers. Olson Transportation also has several hundred drivers.

State Claims 14 Book Publishers Bilked Libraries

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today announced the state has filed an antitrust suit against 14 book publishers and three book wholesalers charging price - fixing in books sold to public libraries and schools throughout the state.

Kelley said a preliminary estimate sets damages sought at around $2 million. The state recently obtained a more than $1 million settlement in a price-fixing case involving the sale of rock salt to the state — then a record settlement.

The suit was prepared in cooperation with Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction. It was filed in U.S. District Court at Philadelphia through intervention in an action previously filed by numerous public agencies.

Kelley said preliminary data indicates that some 900 public schools and more than 290 libraries in the state, including some operated directly by the state, may have been affected by the alleged price - fixing activities.

In April of 1966 a federal grand jury was convened in Chicago resulting from hearings conducted by U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D - Mich., chairman of the antitrust and monopoly subcommittee.

The publishers defendants are: Harper & Row Publishers, Inc.; The MacMillan Co.; McGraw - Hill Book Co.; Golden Press Inc.; Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc.; Random House, Inc.; Alfred A. Knopf, Inc.; Franklin Watts, Inc.; Henry Z. Walck, Inc.; Children's Press, Inc.; Little Brown & Co.; G.P. Putnam's Sons; David McKay Co.; Baker & Taylor Co.

LBJ Flying To Pan-Am Meeting On Development

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson flies to South America tonight for a hemispheric summit meeting that, in the view of American officials, can't possibly bear much solid fruit until the 1970s.

The main purpose of the 19-nation talks at Punta del Este, Uruguay, is to line up broad support for south-of-the-border development schemes that would require at least several years of planning before their impact would be felt.

Johnson thus has made it clear in advance that he expects neither surprises nor spectacular developments at this first meeting of hemispheric presidents in 11 years.

Formal meetings begin Wednesday and wind up Friday when, if everything goes according to the well-orchestrated advance script, the 19 presidents will sign a "Declaration of Punta del Este."

If the national leaders agree, the declaration will feature a pledge to work toward a Latin-American common market that would evolve gradually between 1970 and 1985.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and foreign ministers from the other participating countries met at Punta del Este over the weekend to smooth out the conference agenda.

Charge Speck Falsified Name

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — The state is putting the finishing touches on its attempt to show that Richard Speck is the intruder who slew eight student nurses, then sought refuge in the honky-tonk saloons and flophouses of Chicago's Near North Side.

The 25-year-old drifter is charged with the knife and strangulation murder of the eight in their South Side townhouse July 14.

The prosecution was expected to call a woman hotel employe in its attempt to reconstruct for the seven men and five women jurors hearing Speck's trial a precise account of the killer's flight. She was expected to testify that Speck registered under a false name in a hotel.

The state may close its case by Wednesday. After that, the defense calls to witness relatives of Speck's family.

Last week's spotlight was on Corazon Amurao, 23, the nurse from the Philippines who spent nearly seven hours on the same couch she told how her eight roommates were herded into a bedroom by an intruder, bound with strips of cloth and then, one by one, led from the room to their deaths in other sections of the townhouse. She told of hiding under a bed for four hours to hide from the killer as he picked his victims.

Police Charge Two Negroes Incited Nashville's Rioting

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Sporadic violence continued early today in the Negro college section of Nashville where gunshots, fires and looting marked the second straight night of racial trouble and left one student seriously wounded.

Police charged two Negroes with inciting a riot. They were identified as George Washington Ware, 26, of Atlanta and Ernest Stephens, 25, of Tuskegee, Ala., and were held under $2,500 bond each early today.

Ware told police he was with "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael here Saturday. Stephens said he was a worker for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, headed by Carmichael.

The charges stemmed from riots which erupted Saturday night — a few hours after Carmichael spoke at a symposium at predominantly white Vanderbilt University. The violence was triggered when police ejected a Negro from a Negro tavern at the owner's request. Police said Carmichael was not seen in the area of the rioting.

One Negro college student was shot in the neck Sunday night and hospitalized as Negro rioters fired at police, stoned passing cars and roamed the streets between the campuses of predominantly Negro Fisk and Tennessee State universities a mile apart.

In two nights of violence, at least 50 persons were arrested.

HELMETED NASHVILLE RIOT POLICE lead a rioter away from the scene of Saturday night's demonstration which spilled over into Sunday. The scene was near predominantly Negro Fisk University here. (AP Wirephoto)

Gadget Replaces Sawmill Slabbing

By JEAN WORTH

Michigan State University specialists in wood processing provided a look at the possibilities of the future in the Upper Peninsula wood industry's resurgency Saturday at a workshop for sawmill men at Bay de Noc College, as well as expertise on modern sawing.

Dr. Otto Suchsland of the Department of Forest Products, School of Natural Resources, MSU, was assisted by Monte R. Harold, a research associate of the school, in presenting for the technicians from U. P. wood working mills the newest developments in sawing, cutting head milling and chipping machinery.

The look into the future that is now being opened by new sawmilling equipment was the most exciting part of the workshop.

The conventional method of turning a round log into lumber has, for much more than a century, been to saw slabs off two sides of the log and then cut the remaining cant into boards. A variation of this is to saw off four slabs so a square cant only remains and there is no need to "edge" the bark edge of the boards.

Saws Are Same

The new saws are essentially like the old ones; they are circular saws and band saws. The band saw is more efficient because it's thinner and wastes less sawdust in cutting, but it is harder to maintain and thus not a good prospect for small sawmill operation.

The circular saw becomes better with advances in metallurgy and knowledge of force and cutting techniques. Some of the MSU experts' stress was on safety; designing saws so that the feed does not overrun them and cause them to throw the board back through the sawyer like a javelin.

But the great advance in milling described at the workshop was in cutter heads which depart the conventional sawing of a round log into slabs and boards, and which make four cuts into the debarked log, converting the cuts into pulping chips, and leaving a cant that is in the form of a cross. This machine is called a chipomatic canter by one of the machinery firms that make them.

Cant Is Ganged

The cross-shaped cant then is put through another machine that performs the functions of the old sawmill gang saw, converting the cant into boards.

This type of machinery is expensive and so it is not apt to be acquired by a small sawmill operator, but the trend is away from the small mill anyway, because it cannot effect the economies of a big operation and take advantage of the labor saving machinery that has been developed for the industry.

There are none of the cutting head chipper-canters in use in Michigan wood mills yet, but one is in operation in Canada and one on the West Coast and one in the South. There use is largely limited to the production of dimension stock, 2x4s, 2x6s, etc.

Sawing By Jet

The University of Michigan's effort to develop sawing by waterjet is reported by Dr. Suchsland to be progressing. Water is jetted from a fine nozzle under extremely high pressure to saw wood, or other materials like textiles. Where a saw will make a quarter inch cut in a log and produce sawdust of the wood in the cut, the water jet can operate in as fine a dimension as one ten thousandth of an inch.

The Russians, said Dr. Suchsland are reported to be using water jets in the felling of trees.

Dr. Suchsland noted that the organization of a wood industry economy has a strong influence on the type of machinery used in its processing. As the forests of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan are restored and their growth moves out of pole size trees into sawlog size trees the potential for wood industries is enlarged by the creation of a large amount of raw material.

Industry Organization

Other factors figure in wood industry creation, however, like the ownership of the timber and the method of sale and marketing; the volumes of wood available on a continuing basis to make big investment in mills feasible; the products which can be produced economically so that they take a strong place in the market.

One of the Upper Peninsula's difficult problems in recreating wood industry is to set up a system of wood supply so that trees go to the mills that can use them to greatest economic advantage, the veneer logs to veneer mills, the sawlogs to sawmills and the small sized wood and large sized waste and chips to the pulp mills. When a logger has only one stick of veneer timber in a pulping operation it's very apt to go to the pulp pile because its higher value as veneer is overcompensated by the cost of special handling one stick.

Big Mill Units

The new milling machines are fast, automatic and efficient, but they are costly and can only pay their way with large volume operations and the organization of such milling operations in an area like the Upper Peninsula, where timber is owned by small private forest owners, large industrial forest owners, and state and federal government forests, is complex.

The wood industry technicians point to large operations as the best hope a stable wood industry, with resources to acquire modern equipment and to keep it busy.

C&NW Ore Goal: To Top Last Year

The Chicago & North Western Railway is hopeful of shipping six and three-quarter million tons of ore this year, L. A. McMillan, ore dock agent said today.

That will exceed last year's 6½ million tons, which was one of the better years recently.

"This is going to be a good year also," the dock agent said. "The loadings here will be slow for a few days and will begin to speed up toward the end of this week."

Ryerson Returns

The Inland Steel's Ryerson, which opened the 1967 season here last week, is back at the dock today for another load of ore. She took on about 22,000 tons and cleared for Indiana Harbor.

Ice is broken in Little Bay de Noc and the outer bay is open, with the ice floes shoved southward before a strong wind. Tankers and ore carriers will enter and leave with increasing frequency as the navigation season gets fully under way.

The Associated Press reports from Sault Ste. Marie that, having broken out ice in the lower St. Marys River, the Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw turned her attention today to upper reaches of the river and to White Fish Bay at the bottom of Lake Superior.

Locks Ready

The first Great Lakes freighter of the 1967 shipping season isn't expected at the Soo Locks before Tuesday. None followed the Mackinaw up, as often has happened in past seasons.

The 290-foot icebreaker arrived at the Soo Sunday. Its crew reported no trouble in breaking out ice 10 to 15 inches thick in the lower river.

The Coast Guard tug Naugatuck was dispatched down river to DeTour to break out the harbor there and anchorages in that area.

Police Seeking Stray Dog That Bit Young Child

Persons who can locate the stray dog that bit Michele "Shelly" Ottensman, 3, on the arm on April 1 will be doing the family a big favor.

Because if the dog is not located and placed under observation to determine if it is rabid, Shelly may have to take anti - rabies treatment, which is painful and sometimes dangerous.

"The doctor said he does not want to give the treatment unless it is necessary, because it is really rough," said Mrs. James Ottensman, 806 N. 19th St.

She said Shelly is well and that the wound left by the dog is healing. Shelly will be taken to the doctor again tomorrow.

Police asked that anyone knowing the whereabouts of the black and white dog, wearing a tan collar, call the station at once.

State Tax Equality

State Senator Joseph Mack (D-Ironwood) has publicly berated the Michigan Conservation Department so often that no one was surprised by his announcement last week of the discovery of a tax inequity "of scandalous proportions" which he blamed upon the department. What was surprising about the announcement, however, was that Senator Mack was joined in making it by Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee), who ordinarily would not be expected to allow himself to become a party to such shenanigans.

The announcement, sent out by Senator Mack's office, claimed that he and Representative Jacobetti had "uncovered" a double standard of taxation for the Upper and Lower Peninsulas "after an exhaustive and detailed research of the law."

What they had "uncovered" was something any citizen could have found out in five minutes simply by picking up the telephone and calling the State Tax Commission.

* * *

The information they had "unearthed" is simply this: On state-owned lands in the Upper Peninsula and the northern Lower Peninsula, the state pays the counties in which these lands are situated 20 cents an acre per annum in lieu of taxes. There is nothing new about this. It has been the practice ever since being enacted into law by the Legislature in 1916.

In the southern third of the Lower Peninsula, however, a different formula for reimbursement is followed, and counties there receive annual payments for state-owned lands equivalent to what these lands would be taxed if held in private ownership, exclusive of improvements on the lands. This has been standard practice since 1925.

Senator Mack is in error when he says that the state follows one system of payments on state lands in the Upper Peninsula and another in the Lower Peninsula. The truth is that the state follows one system in the Upper Peninsula and the northern Lower Peninsula and another in the southern Lower Peninsula.

There's quite a difference, although it may sound better politically to distort the facts a little to make it appear as though the Upper Peninsula is being treated one way while the entire Lower Peninsula is being treated another way.

* * *

After pointing out the differences in payments, Senator Mack says, "This is proof positive that the Upper Peninsula is a stepchild to the Lower Peninsula — mistreated and trampled upon by its agent, the Conservation Department."

This is a classic statement that embraces both of his perennial whipping boys — the Lower Peninsula and the Conservation Department — in a single sentence.

Yet the fact is that the remedy to the unfair system of payments lies not with the Conservation Department, but with the Legislature, of which Senator Mack is a member.

It happens that we agree with Senator Mack that it is unfair and discriminatory to reimburse counties in two-thirds of the state according to one formula while applying another to the other third of the state. But we do not agree that he should seek to rectify the matter by falsifying the situation or by blaming the executive branch of government for the problem when the remedy lies with the legislative branch.

* * *

Senator Mack has introduced at least two bills aimed at eliminating the discriminatory county reimbursement practices. His Senate Bill 449 would require that the middle and northern counties be reimbursed in the same manner as the southern counties are. His Senate Bill 523 would require that the southern counties be reimbursed in the same manner as the middle and northern counties are.

Payments to counties on lands that reverted to the state for tax delinquency are made from the general fund. Payments to counties on lands purchased by the state are made from the game and fish protective fund, which comes primarily from revenue from sale of hunting and fishing licenses.

* * *

If Senate Bill 449 were adopted, a good deal more money would be needed to cover the payments to the counties, and this would place an even greater drain on the game and fish protection fund, which is financed by the state's sportsmen.

If SB 523 were adopted, less money would be required for payments to the counties; the middle and northern counties would continue to receive the same amounts they are receiving now, while the southern counties would have to absorb a cut in payments; and the game and fish protection fund would not be jeopardized.

Senator Mack's SB 523 deserves Senate consideration. It must be possible for it to receive this consideration without a lot of Mack's self-serving hoop-la.

The youthful fad now sweeping the country of wearing old clothes can't help but bring a glow of modest pride to those of us who have been doing this for years without knowing we were setting a fashion trend. Some of us, in fact, were just doing it so our kids wouldn't have to wear old clothes.

MUCC Says State Deer Plan Goofed

The following editorial is from Michigan Out - of - Doors, official publication of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, which has several affiliated sportsmen's clubs in the Upper Peninsula.

Michigan's Conservation Commission, at its July 1966 meeting, laid the cornerstone of an ugly monument to itself.

The "monument" is made up of dead, wasted deer which starved to death during the past winter. Had the commission chosen to do so, they could have allowed hunters to harvest these deer during last fall's hunting season.

Tragic though this may be, it is not the worst. Before dying, the deer destroyed priceless future food supplies, thus assuring continuing deer losses in other winters to come. And, this winter's death toll is still not complete. Many does, lucky enough to survive till spring break-up are in such a state of malnutrition that they will give birth to dead fawns.

MUCC voiced violent opposition when the commission, last spring, appointed a 280-man "Citizens Deer Advisory Committee," following pressure from a few vocal members of the Legislature. MUCC maintained then, and still does, that deer management is a job for trained experts.

At the July 1966 commission meeting, Conservation Department game biologists recommended a substantial harvest of does and fawns, along with bucks. In some areas, the Citizens Deer Advisory Committee cut department recommendations in half.

Despite warnings from game biologists that anything but a mild winter would result in heavy deer losses, the commission voted to go along with the citizen groups.

* * *

For the record, it should be pointed out that only three of the five commissioners voted for this arrangement. August Scholle, Robert McLaughlin and Carl T. Johnson voted to cut down on any-deer permits.

Matt Laitala favored the plan offered by the game biologists, and said the only possible justification in cutting down on any-deer permits by 50 per cent (as was done in some areas) would be if winter yarding had improved in food supplies by the same percentage. "This simply has not happened!" he emphasized. The fifth commissioner, Harry Whiteley, was absent during that meeting.

* * *

In all fairness, it should be mentioned that in some districts recommendations of the citizen committees were identical to those of the game biologists, who set deer harvests as conservative as they dared. While some deer were lost in these areas, too, the loss was not as heavy as it would have been if extra does and fawns had not been taken by hunters last fall. And, future browse was saved.

MUCC is now more convinced than ever that deer management is a job for game division experts. Neither is there any doubt in their minds that the Conservation Commission made a costly and foolish error when they gave into political pressures last spring and tried to duck their appointed responsibilities. The politicians who threatened the commission most violently are no longer members of the Legislature. The people of Michigan saw to that.

* * *

The present Legislature gives every appearance of shaping up as an impressive "Conservation Legislature." As such, there is no longer any reason for the Conservation Commission to run scared.

It will be interesting, therefore, to see what their decision might be this coming July when regulations are set for the 1967 deer season. Will they build that ugly monument to waste even higher" Or, will they begin to tear it down?

Misleading Congress

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — One local mystery is the persistence with which Defense Secretary Robert McNamara misleads Congress and the public on the antiballistic missile program.

McNamara has a reason for not wanting to push ahead with the Nike systems now. He thinks extra money spent on improving offensive missiles brings higher payoffs than building an antimissile system from scratch.

But McNamara doesn't stop with this argument.

He goes on to claim there's no point in building an antimissile complex unless the United States first builds a costly nationwide antiradiation shelter system.

He says that without the shelter program the people will die anyway from radioactive fallout. In an all-out war, Defense Department men talk in terms of 100 million or more dead.

The truth is some of the Nike systems are designed to destroy enemy missiles at considerable distances up. Successful AICBMs would destroy enemy missiles without exploding them. The enemy warhead would simply burn up or disintegrate.

* * *

The Nike antimissile nuclear explosive charges need not be large. Further, explosions at this height produce one - third to one-sixth of the fallout of nuclear explosions on the ground. This radiation would be further diluted by wind currents before it reached the ground.

Assume the Nike systems were installed nationwide. Fallout damage would thus be small for enemy missiles successfully intercepted.

Certainly a nationwide blast and radiation shelter system would be of great value to protect people against radiation and blast from enemy missiles that slipped through U. S. defenses.

But it's difficult to understand how the considerable amount of protection a well-planned Nike system would give would be valueless without a shelter program—if Congress won't vote both.

McNamara is also telling Congress that because of the test ban treaty it is impossible to test the Nike systems adequately. There are other logical arguments against the treaty, but this one is hogwash. If this argument held water, both Polaris and Minuteman wouldn't have been built. Neither has been tested out with nuclear warheads.

* * *

A series of high - altitude nuclear firings before the test ban was signed gave more information than is needed for Nike concerning the major effects of high nuclear explosions.

These tests gave detailed information on the strength of the shock waves the nuclear explosions produce at high altitudes and the speed at which those shock waves spread.

They gave accurate information on the rate at which the fireball expands.

They produced detailed data on the radiation effects at different distances from the explosion.

The tracking, guidance and control systems of the Nike complex can be tested without nuclear warheads. The major problems are to determine if the Nike radar can find the targets accurately and with rapidity, if the Nikes can be guided to the enemy warhead quickly and exploded near enough to that warhead to be effective. This can all be done with warheads that carry no explosives.

The effects of nuclear explosives on varied types of simulated enemy warheads can also be tested underground, using scaled-down models.

In short, it is possible to give the Nike system components the same thorough testing given Minuteman and Polaris.

The question is why has McNamara been so misleading?

Oswald: "I'd like to avoid both of them but the man who never returns your lead has to be the less desirable."

Jim: "Like almost everywhere else there is a happy medium. Let's discuss it this week."

Oswald: "Here's a good example from a recent tournament. West opened the deuce of hearts. Dummy played low and East won with the king. East was one of those players who always return their partner's lead so back came the nine of hearts. South won and led dummy's king of clubs. When West let that hold, South led a second club. West ducked again. South cashed the ace of hearts and led a third club which West had to win. West led a low diamond. South went up with dummy's king, came to his hand with the ace of spades and took his last two clubs and jack of hearts to wind up with two overtricks."

Jim: "I suppose that East explained that he was afraid declarer would hold both ace and ten of diamonds and that a diamond shift might cost him a trick."

Oswald: "Naturally. It never occurred to East that the odds were three to one that West would hold one of those two cards and that even if West held the nine a low diamond lead might be all right anyway."

Jim: "The diamond return would hold declarer to his contract. Since North and South were likely to play and make either two spades or three clubs I imagine that East's bad return made the difference between a top and bottom score."

Joins Cowards

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — When a bill came before the Kansas Senate to raise from $8 to $10 a day the pay of secretaries who flank the senators during sessions, "no" followed upon "no." The secretaries stirred. A senator changed his vote, then another and another.

"Well," said Sen. William Gravley, "I see I'm going to have to join the rest of you cowards."

Ann Landers

Ann Sticks To 'Guns' Better Laws Needed

Dear Readers: One of the unalterable characteristics of human nature is the inclination to express oneself AGAINST something more often and more strongly than FOR something. The aginners in our society are infinitely more vocal (and better organized) than the "positive thinkers."

I recently printed a letter decrying the easy availability of guns in this country and the need for some decent gun laws. I agreed with the writer and asked my readers to write to their senators and congressmen and state legislators. As a result of that one letter, my mail has virtually tripled. The National Rifle Association boasts 800,000 members. I have the feeling that most of them must have written (at least once to tell me to "Get lost"—"Drop dead" — "Go drown". There were numerous other suggestions — mostly unprintable.

Here are some samples of what my week has been like:

Dear Ann Landers: What are you, a Communist or something? What do you mean by trying to take guns away from the American people? Don't you know the Constitution of the United States gives us the right to bear arms? I'm going to write to my senator as you suggested, but it won't be about gun laws. It will be a request that you be investigated for un-American activities. TEXAS CITIZEN

I replied to Texas citizen (and to 20,000 other citizens who made the same point) that the intent of the second amendment to the Constitution is to give each state the right to maintain an organized militia. It doesn't mean states and the federal government can't have laws strictly regulating the sale and registration of firearms. Many states already have such laws (and less trouble).

Here's another doll:

Dear Ann Landers: Guns are not dangerous. People who don't know how to use guns are dangerous. What we need is proper instruction on the handling of firearms. I am in favor of school children being taught in the classroom how to use a gun. Children who grow up with guns and learn early how to handle them intelligently will never have a problem.— R. A. OF ILLINOIS

* * *

Dear R. A.: You sound like that New England psychiatrist who was in favor of school kids learning how to drink liquor in kindergarten. His theory was that if kids became acquainted with liquor early in life, they would know how to handle it later. Sorry, but I didn't buy his theory and I don't buy yours.

Dear Ann: If people want to kill they will kill. If they don't have a gun handy they will use a knife, or a letter opener, or a silk stocking. The Boston strangler used his hands. So why don't you stick to love problems and stay out of things you don't know anything about? — CHARLIE

Dear Charlie: Police officers say guns are about eight times more likely to kill than other weapons. Of the 35 men who have served as President of the United States, one-fifth have been shot at, four were killed, two were wounded and two were missed. According to the FBI in 1965, 53 American police officers were murdered-52 by guns.

The most sensible and practical letter came from a teenage boy. I will publish his letter tomorrow. See you here.

* * *

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits — the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-Age Sex—Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Varnum Talks On Medicaid

LANSING — In his maiden speech of freshman Representative Charles H. Varnum, (R-Manistique), talked about misinformation being spread about a proposed delay in the federal Medicaid program. He delivered his speech during debate on the medicaid measure before the House decided to delay the program until the revenue situation for the future is better determined.

Varnum cited distorted information, misinformation and misunderstanding about the current status of the program and what a delay would do to the program. According to the Upper Peninsula legislator, the financial necessity of changing some of the original planning has erroneously been called a cutback or withdrawal of services.

Varnum said that all persons who fall into Michigan's most needy group are now receiving hospitalization, physicians services whether in hospital, nursing homes or in their own home or a Doctor's office. These services are being provided for those receiving old age assistance, aid to the blind, aid to the disabled and the children in aid to dependent children.

Speaking on the bill to delay the full implementation of Medicaid, Varnum added, "it is true that originally the law and the plans to implement the law contemplated providing this same level of service to persons who have limited income. But by December of last year, it was apparent that the monies appropriated for the program would not be enough for full implementation. Just to carry the program as described to the end of this fiscal year would take $18 to 19 million more money. Without some new revenue this was impossible.

"The decision had to be made between cutting back existing services or delaying the providings for totally new services to an expanded and less needy group of people. The decision had to be made to keep the existing programs." Varnum said this was done to be equitable to those already receiving the benefits of the program. Varnum said that some provisions were made to take care of people on restricted low incomes by adopting an amendment to the delaying bill that provided for physician services for the medically indigent. This provides for an additional $16 million added to the program

Tigers Could End 22 Years Of AL Pennant Frustration

Detroit Closes Grapefruit Loop On 4-3 Triumph

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers headed for California today with a 14-13 Grapefruit League season behind them and high hopes for the summer.

The Tigers nipped the Boston Red Sox 4-3 Sunday on 10th inning hits by Al Kaline and Gates Brown. Kaline doubled to open the inning and Brown cracked a single up the middle to drive him home.

"It was a slider, going away," said Brown. "I tried to go up the middle with it."

Fred Gladding allowed only one hit in the 10th and received credit for the victory. Joe Sparma pitched the seventh, eighth and ninth innings and allowed two hits but no runs.

Mickey Lolich started and gave up one run on three hits in three innings. Earl Wilson pitched three and allowed two runs on three hits.

The Tigers tied the game 3-3 in the fourth on a walk to Kaline, a double by Brown, a walk to Bill Freehan and a bases-loaded double by Dick Tracewski that drove in three men.

Tracewski, who got two hits, said Manager Mayor Smith and batting coach Wally Moses had worked with him on standing straight at the plate. He said this prevented him from straightening as the ball was thrown and topping it.

Smith said he and all the players were ready for the opener against the California Angels Tuesday at Los Angeles. Denny McLain (20-14) will face George Brunet (13-13).

Smith said he was reasonably satisfied with the club.

"I think it will be a better infield this year," he said. "The hitting is improving and will get better. I think the bullpen is better."

Outside of injuries to Willie Horton and Ray Oyler, the Tigers appear in good physical condition. Horton is troubled by tendon problems and a muscle strain in his left calf. He will miss the opener. Brown will start in his place in left field.

Oyler has an injured left leg as a result of a collision at second and Tracewski will start at shortstop.

Mickey Stanley is recovering from a turned ankle. Larry Sherry pulled a leg muscle running Saturday, but it isn't considered serious.

Three Double Swim Winners

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Mike Burton of the University of Southern California, Mark Spitz of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club and Ken Merten of Southern Methodist University were the only double winners at the three-day National AAU men's swimming meet which produced some surprises.

Burton flashed to victory in the 500- and 1,650-yard freestyle and Spitz splashed home in the 200- and 100-yard butterfly. Merten was the class of the field in the 200- and 100-yard breaststroke events.

The meet didn't end Saturday without a few upsets.

Don Havens, a tall University of Southern California sophmore, upset favored Don Schollander of Yale in the 100-yard freestyle.

Schollander offered no excuses.

"I felt good, but just couldn't get going," he said.

Nine American records were smashed in the 16 events of the meet which was won by the Santa Clara Swim club with 65 points.

Indiana University had 63, losing out when it finished third in the last event, the 800-yard freestyle relay.

Baseball Rules Makers Examine Wills' Footwear

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Maury Wills' new-style baseball shoes, banned by National League President Warren Giles, will come under the scrutiny of the Baseball Rules Committee.

The shoes are fitted with single spikes similar to golf or track shoes. Wills, the Pittsburgh Pirates' third baseman, wore them during most of spring training and intended to wear them during the season until Giles notified him last week that he considered them illegal.

Now Pirate General Manager Joe L. Brown says he will appeal in New York to Charley Segar, chairman of the Baseball Rules Committee, to make them legal.

"It is my hope we can convince the Rules Committee that Maury's shoes should be permitted to be used by major league players," Brown said Sunday in Richmond, Va., before the Pirates departed for New York and their Tuesday opener with the Mets.

Giles reportedly contacted Brown over the weekend and said he planned to ask the manufacturer of the shoes to send a pair to each member of the Rules Committee, plus American League President Joe Cronin and himself.

Wills, who holds the major league record for most bases stolen in a season, claims the aluminum-spiked shoes are lighter and easier to run in than the triangular-shaped spikes on conventional baseball shoes.

"I'm hoping for some approval during the season," Wills said. "Until then. I will wear the normal spiked shoes. Joe Brown has told me to wear the regular shoes and he is my boss."

Wolverines Sweep Pair; Extend Baseball Win Streak To 6 Games

By The Associated Press

Michigan's Wolverines, warming up for the coming Big Ten baseball season, swept a doubleheader from Detroit Saturday to extend its winning streak to six games.

Michigan won the first game 11-0 and took the nightcap 3-1.

In other games, Eastern Michigan won two from Alma by scores of 7-0 and 14-2, Northwood Institute swept Ferris State 6-5 and 15-0 and Western Michigan beat Bowling Green of Ohio 6-1 in a Mid-American Conference game. Aquinas split a twinbill with Olivet, winning the nightcap 4-3 after dropping the first game by the same score.

Michigan, now 10-4, won the first game from Detroit as Keith Spicer drove in three runs on four hits.

Dave Renkiewicz, a sophomore from Wyandotte, held Detroit hitless in the final three frames of the second game to pick up his second victory. Wolverines third baseman Glenn Redmon rammed five hits, driving in two runs and scoring five.

Ed Sherry blasted two home runs and pitched Ball State to victory in the first game against Michigan State. The Spartans won the nightcap with steady play.

Tom Allen and Dennnis Barath combined to hurl shutout ball as Eastern Michigan blanked Alma in the first game. John Clay's three-run homer was the big blow in the Huron's victory in the nightcap.

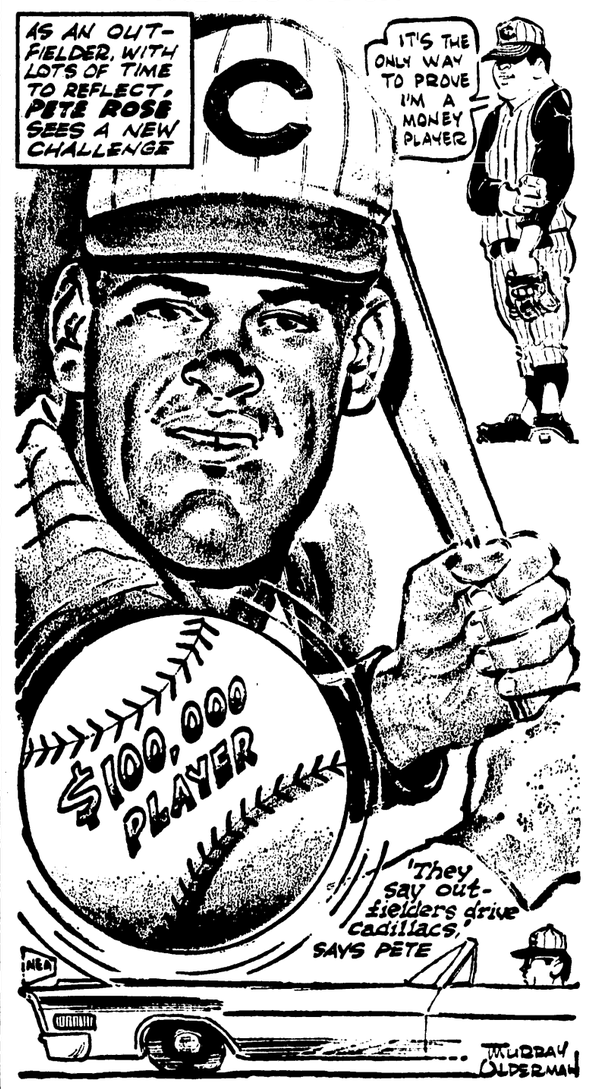
Gordon Green fanned Mike Stackowicz of Ferris State with the bases loaded in the seventh inning to cut off a Bull Dog rally and preserve Northwood's victory in the opener. Northwood's Roger Bentham of Imlay City held Ferris to three hits and struck out six in winning the nightcap.

Jim Johnson fanned 14 in hurling a two-hitter as Western Michigan beat Bowling Green. Bowling Green's only run came in the seventh on a walk, two errors and a single.

Al Martus stole four bases, including home, in Olivet's second game loss to Aquinas. He scored two of his team's three runs and slashed out two hits.

Olivet won the first game when relief pitcher Mac McKnight of Aquinas walked in the winning run in the bottom of the seventh.

THE BIG PITCH



Pitching Big Factor In Club's Ambitions

By WHITEY SAWYER

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers open the American League race at Los Angeles Tuesday with a team that has a solid chance to end 22 years of frustration.

Not since 1945 has Detroit had a baseball champion, but this year's club could win it all.

Pitching, of course, is the big factor. Denny McLain won 20 games last year, and the 23-year-old righthander ought to be better this season.

Mickey Lolich was 14-14 and Tiger manager Mayo Smith said, "Lolich has better stuff than that. He ought to win more and lose fewer."

Earl Wilson was 5-5 for the Boston Red Sox last year, then came to Detroit and won 13 while losing six. The change also cut his earned run average from 3.84 to 2.59.

That's the big three.

Sparma Is Fourth

The fourth starter is Joe Sparma, a handsome 25-year-old who went 2-7 last year. But Sparma has looked very sharp this spring, and both Smith and pitching coach Johnny Sain have said he could be a big surprise.

The bullpen has been cited all along as the key to the Tigers' pennant hopes. Smith has said he has every reason to think it will be better this year.

Johnny Podres has looked very strong his last few times out, and Smith has said he could win a starting berth. Larry Sherry was bombed the last time he worked but in general has looked very good as the short relief man.

Hank Aguirre wants to start but he wants to play with a pennant winner even more and is beginning to look as though he'll make a top relief pitcher. Fred Gladding and Orlando Pena have demonstrated an ability to come in and get the side out.

Question Marks

Rookie George Korince has wildness problems, Dave Wickersham and Bill Monbouquette are question marks. At least one of the three, however, should come through under Sain's patient teaching.

The outfield is the best in the league. If Willie Horton's leg troubles—bursitis and muscle strain — don't hamper him, he appears headed for a great year at bat. Jim Northrup has shown steady improvement each year and is hitting .333 this spring with 27 runs batted in.

Al Kaline is having a great spring. A great year by Kaline would put new marks in the record books and quite possibly lift the Tigers to a pennant.

Norm Cash at first and Don Wert at third are solid players, at field and at bat. Dick McAuliffe has made the transition from shortstop to second without a hitch and makes the first-second-third base combinaton as good as any in the league.

Ray Oyler is a great glove man at shortstop, but his hitting still is a question mark. Backing him up is Dick Tracewski, another good field-no hit man.

Freehan Needs Rest

Behind the plate Bill Freehan is showing signs of hitting better than his .234 with 12 homers last year. He needs rest, however, and finding a backup man who can catch as well as hit is difficult.

Smith is starting the season with newcomers Jim Price and Chris Cannizzaro as backup catchers.

The attitude of the club is terrific. The pitchers all think Sain is giving them more confidence, better pitches and will increase their victories.

The batters have the feeling that batting coach Wally Moses will hike their averages at least 25 points.

"The attitude is good," Smith said. "They've worked hard and done everything we've asked them to do."

"I think we've got pretty good hitting ability. Our defense is pretty good. Horton, Kaline, Northrup and Cash should account for a lot of runs. Northrup is greatly improved. He wants to be the best.

Bullpen Is Key

"The bullpen is the key, and it's looking better.

"Injuries to key men will be the determining factor in this pennant race. Baltimore, Minnesota, Chicago, Kansas City and Los Angeles all could be in there. Our club should be in the thick of it," Smith said.

Most of the Tigers think they are going to win and this alone will make them harder to beat. Kaline said, "this club has some ifs — mostly in the pitching — but we can win it. I think we've got as good or better chance than anyone.

McLain was indignant when he read that a sportswriter had picked Baltimore to win.

"How can anyone pick any club but this one?" he asked

Northrup, asked if he had set any goals this season, replied — "Just to help us win the pennant."

Lolich confided that, "I told my wife if I went 25 games this year and we won the pennant, she still won't get a new house. I'm going to spend it all on cars."

United States Cage Team Picked For Pan Am Games

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — An 18-man basketball team, which All-America Elvin Hayes of Houston and collegiate scoring ace Earl Monroe of Winston-Salem didn't make, was named Sunday night to represent the United States in this summer's Pan American Games at Winnipeg.

"I believe we've got a winner," Coach Hal Fischer of San Francisco said of the selections. "I think we've got a very fine club."

Named to the team, which assembles at the University of Minnesota July 2 for 20 days of practice before going to Winnipeg for the start of the Pan American Games July 22, were:

Westley Unseld of Louisville, Sonny Dove of St. John's, Don May of Dayton, Mal Graham of NYU and Jo Jo White of Kansas, who all competed for the NCAA in the three-day, round-robin U.S. trials tournament which wound up Sunday afternoon.

Kendall Rhine and Darel Carrier of Bartlesville, Okla., Jay Miller and Calvin Fowler of Akron and Steve Jones of the Jamaco Saints, who played for the AAU.

Robert Kauffman of Guilford College, Al Tucker of Oklahoma Baptist, Charles Paulk of Northeastern Oklahoma and Henry Logan of Western Carolina, who were members of the NAIA All-Star agggregation.

And Mike Silliman and John Clawson of the Army and John Snipes and Mike Barrett of the Navy, who represented the Armed Forces.

Fischer, who will be assisted by Minnesota's John Kundla, will trim the team to 12 players for the Winnipeg competition.

All three missed out in the voting by a 42-member AAU selection committee which included Fischer and the coaches of the NCAA, NAIA, AAU and Armed Forces teams.

"The committee had to look at the ballplayers as they saw them here," Fischer said.

Monroe scored 22 of his 26 points in the crucial last 14 minutes to lead the NAIA to a 77-71 victory over the Armed Forces Sunday. That gave the underdog NAIA the team championship. Barret, the meet's No. 2 scorer with 57 points, got 17 in the finale.

The NCAA wound up third despite a 92-65 drubbing by the AAU in Sunday's windup.

Aqueduct Track Idle Fifth Straight Day

By The Associated Press

There was no racing today at Aqueduct, the fifth straight racing day that the huge thoroughbred track in New York City has been closed by a horsemen's strike for increased purse money.

If the strike continues through the week one of the best races of the spring season, the $50,000 Gotham Mile scheduled for Saturday, will be off. Most of the leading candidates for next month's Kentucky Derby, Damascus, Reflected Glory, Dr. Fager and Successor, have been expected to go in the Gotham.

Brunch, Disciplinarian and Nehoc's Bullet also have been listed among the probables for the Gotham

While Aqueduct was dark last Saturday and In Reality, winner of the Florida Derby, and Ruken, winner of the Santa Anita Derby, had an off day at other tracks, Monitor, Cool Reception and Field Master enhanced their chances for the Derby at Churchill Downs May 6.

Monitor, owned by the Clairbourne Farm, survived a claim of foul and won the $59,200 Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park by a nose over Ask The Fare, another Kentucky Derby eligible who had taken the Louisiana Derby. Monitor, ridden by Jimmy Nichols, set a track record of 1:48 3-5 for the 1⅛ miles.

Cool Reception, Canada's 2-year-old champion last year, drew out in the stretch under Johnny Sellers and won the Fort Lauderdale Handicap at Gulfstream Park by 3½ lengths. The only 3-year-old in the field, Cool Reception ran the 1 1-16 miles in 1:43 1-5.

Field Master, owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. Hal Seley, beat Proud Land by half a length in the second division of the Gold Rush Stakes at Golden Gate Fields. Field Master ran the mile in 1:36 2-5 over a good track under Bill Mahorney, who also rode Kahl Kabee to victory in the first division.

Bing, Hudson On Rookie Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Bing of Detroit and Lou Hudson of St. Louis were unanimously named by National Basketball Association coaches to the league's rookie team, it was announced today.

Bing, earlier named Rookie of the Year, and Hudson each received 10 votes and were joined on the team by Cazzie Russell of New York, Erwin Mueller of Chicago and Jack Marin of Baltimore, all with seven votes.

Archie Clark of Los Angeles, with six votes, and Clyde Lee of San Francisco, with four, were given honorable mention by the coaches.

Sports In Brief

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Gordon Johncock of Hastings, Mich. finished third Sunday in the Jimmy Bryan 150-mile U.S. Auto Club Championship race. Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., led every lap to win the accident-marred race. Two drivers were injured, including Al Miller of Roseville, Mich. He suffered leg injuries.

Ripe Tomato Timetable Is Given By MSU

You can stretch the season for ripe tomatoes and get a fairly wide range of color by transplanting varieties that vary in fruit maturity, points out Clark W. Nicklow, Michigan State University extension horticulturist.

The number of days from transplanting to harvest for some popular Michigan tomato varieties follows:

Early: Coldest, 62 days; Fireball, 65.

Second Early: Moreton Hybrid, 70; Heinz 1548, 72.

Mid-Season: Cardinal, 74; Campbell 1327, 75; Fantastic, 75; Heinz 1350, 75; Roma (paste), 76.

Late: Heinz 1370, 77; Big Boy, 78; Heinz 1439, 78.

Yellow: Sunray, 80; Golden Jubilee, 83.

Cherry: Yellow Pear, 70; Yellow Plum, 70; Red Cherry, 72; Yellow Cherry, 72; Large Red Cherry, 75.

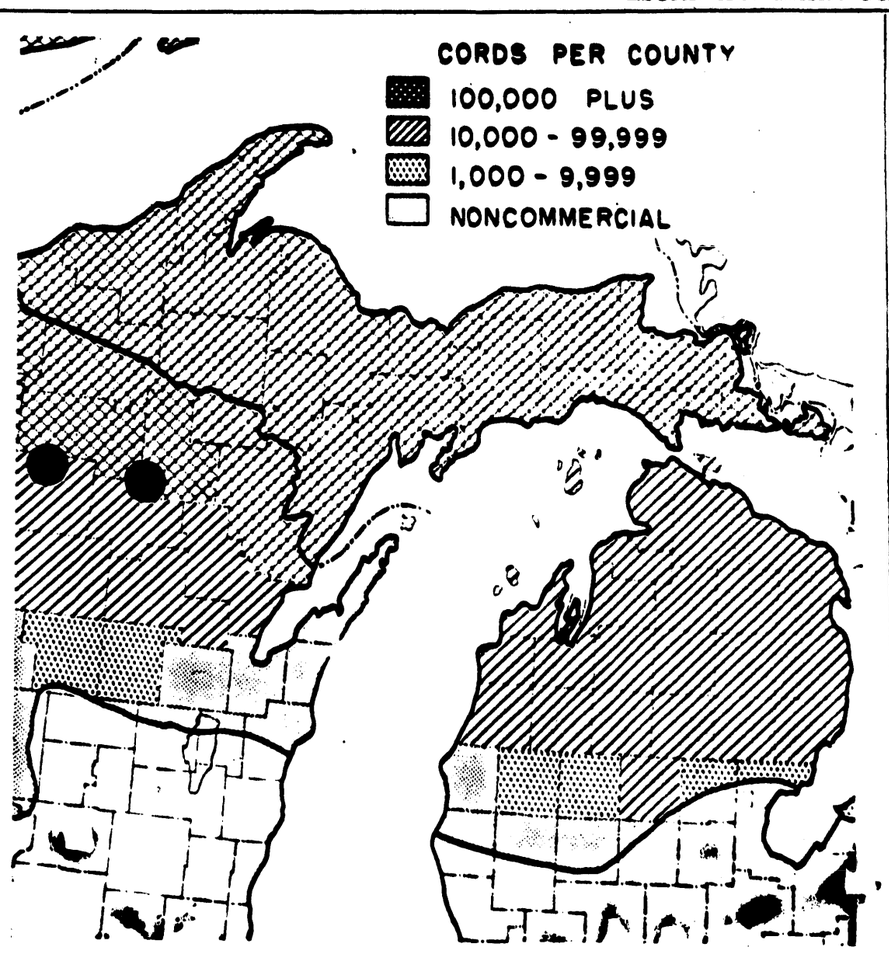
"In order to obtain good tomato yields," says Nicklow, "transplants should be good, sturdy plants. They should not have any open flowers, although some buds may be present."

Japanese Aid Viet Farmers

SAIGON (AP) — Japan, which occupied Vietnam in World War II, is back, unofficially and on a small scale, in a "Peace Corps" project aimed at helping the peasants.

Kazuyuki Yokoyama, 37, is here as president of a group called Japan Peace Volunteers for Vietnam rural development. He brought three agriculture experts and an administrator with him to initiate the effort financed by private contributions.

The Japanese will work with a Vietnamese organization to establish a model farm at Phan Rang, 160 miles northeast of Saigon, and teach Japanese agricultural techniques.



ONE OF THE SCENIC attractions of the La ke States is their great forests, immensely varied as to species, huge in area, changing with soil types, elevations, and climate. One of the trees which makes the northern Lakes States distinctive is the balsam fir, usually called just "balsam" by pulpwood cutters. They are the preferred Christmas tree of Northern Michigan and nowhere in the Lake States do the balsam firs grow more abundantly nor beautifully than in the Upper Peninsula. This map of the botanical and commercial range of the balsam fir in the Lake States was prepared by the U. S. Forest Service and it shows all the U. P. in the area where balsam is so prevalent that it produces more than 100,000 cords of pulpwood per county. The traveler going north begins to see firs at the Saginaw Bay line in Lower Michigan and when he crosses the Mackinac Bridge he's really in "Christmas Tree Country."

Ban Chinook As Commerical Fish

LANSING (AP) — A ban on commercial fishing for chinook salmon in Michigan waters has been approved by the State Conservation Commission.

This is similar to the regulation forbidding commercial taking of coho salmon, introduced earlier in Michigan.

The first plantings of chinook salmon in Michigan are scheduled for three northern Michigan streams some time in late April or early May.

The ban on commercial fishing is aimed at protecting the salmon so they will be able to establish spawning runs. Sports fishermen are being allowed to take the salmon.

Dr. Spock Plans Semiretirement

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock, oracle to millions of mothers, said today he is moving to the Virgin Islands this June.

He wants "to go sailing" —a favorite pasttime — "before I get too feeble for it." Dr. Spock will be 64 in May.

"What it really amounts to," he said, "is sort of semiretirement."

He will be spending some of his time "taking instructions from a secretary in New York who will tell me where some of my appointments are."

Those appointments will be "on the road to peace," he said. Spock said he had received at least five invitations during the past year to speak in Australia. That country has troops fighting alongside U.S. soldiers in Vietnam.

The pediatrician, whose books on infant care rivals sales of the Bible and dictionaries, sees his involvment in protests against the war in Vietnam and Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy as a citizen's right.

To those who would question his venture into the world of quasi-politics from the pediatric waiting room, he points out that "there is 100 times more danger to our children from nuclear annihilation than from illnesses and accidents.

Spock's retirement may have been brought on by a deep rift over his tactics in the SANE group, of which he is national cochairman.

The rift stems from his suggestion that SANE "should be more cordial in its feelings with more radical peace groups. SANE has a tradition of caution in dealing with peace organizations.

Spock will preside as an "individual" at an April 15 peace demonstration in New York's United Nations Plaza. Dr. Martin Luther King, a civil rights leader, will be principal speaker.

The Bronx is the only one of New York's five boroughs that is on the mainland of the United States.

You can dry more than five loads in a Gas dryer for the cost of doing one in an electric. Which means you save enough over an electric dryer for your Gas dryer to pay for itself in seven years. What's more, most Gas dryers last for more than ten years.

Gas dryers save on installation, too. Michigan Consolidated Gas Company will connect new and used Gas dryers free in the areas we serve. And maintenance expense is negligible. In a survey of more than 300 families who owned their Gas dryers an average of five years, a great majority had no service calls at all.* And total maintenance costs for the total group averaged out to less than 20¢ per year per dryer.

Theirs.

Isn't the dryer that costs the least and does the best the dryer for you? Free installation makes it an even better buy. See the new models at your dealer's or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms.

Rock 4H Club To Elect New Officers

The Rock 4-H club had a successful Delta county 4-H Achievement day on April 1. Decorations from the Rock club were used for county achievement decorations.

Nancy W[illegible] was chosen county 4-H queen and Virgil VanDrese of Cornell the 4-H King. They announced the talent winners during the afternoon. Nancy also received the Key Club award, a pin for clothing modeling and a blue ribbon for [illegible] knitting.

Cynthia Niemi received a record player award for best treasurer's book; Annette Kulack a blue ribbon for knitting; modeling: Patricia and Pearla Wick received blue ribbons for modeling; Mrs. Lawrence Wilcox a 5 year leaders pin; Carolyn Kulack took part in the talent program with a piano solo; Nancy and Sally Wick played part of the background music for modeling.

Clothing taken for remodeling in the county on April 17 will be sweaters, Annette Kulack and Nancy Weldom; dresses, Susie Koski and Christine Mankiewicz; suits, Pamela Sharkey and Nancy Weldum.

The members will meet at the Lions club Wednesday, April 12, to finish winter reports. Members who do not turn in their reports at this time will not receive certificates or year pins.

Officers for the summer will be elected, and projects for summer discussed. Those who do not wish to join for the summer, are to bring their completed winter reports or finish them at the meeting

Elks Auxiliary Spring Party Is Successful Affair

Flowers in pastel tints formed decorations for the successful card party, "Say Hello to Spring", at which the Elks Ladies Auxiliary entertained Saturday afternoon in the lounge of the Elks Club.

A graceful flowering shrub formed the central note, complemented by flower decorated tallies, place mats in pastels and the potted geraniums which formed the high score prize at each table.

Dessert was served at 1:30 followed by games of the players' choice. The special guest prize was awarded to Mrs. Howard Dishneau.

Chairman of the annual affair was LaVerne Douck.

Mrs. Douck was re-elected president of the Auxiliary at the business session of the recent April dinner meeting. Other officers for the coming year are: Amy Moberg, vice president; Dorothy Lewis, secretary; Sally Fontaine, treasurer.

The Auxiliary will close its activities for the year with a dinner meeting May 4.

UCT Pot-Luck Supper Planned For Saturday

The United Commercial Travelers of America, council 616 and Auxiliary 229 will hold a pot-luck supper at the John F. Kennedy School on Saturday, April 15 at 7 p.m. Please bring a dish of your favorite recipe. Officers for the coming year will be installed following the supper.

Aiding retarded children has been the aim of the UCT nally.

The local council and auxiliary have donated both time and money to the Kennedy School. The school is located at 1919 14th Ave. N. All members are urged to attend the supper.

Episcopal Churchwomen To Meet Next Week

A new form of the service of Holy Communion will be the subject of two meetings of Episcopal Churchwomen to be held April 18 and 20 in the Diocese of Northern Michigan.

The first meeting will take place at St. James' church, Sault Ste. Marie and the second at Holy Trinity church, Iron Mountain. Both will be identical in foremat, beginning with the service at 10:30 a.m., (EST).

The Rt. Rev. George R. Selway of Menominee, Bishop of the Diocese, will celebrate the Communion, assisted by some of the diocesan clergy. Luncheon, questions and discussion will follow the service.

Prepared by a group of prominent liturgists, the proposed changes will be presented this September in Seattle to the general convention of the Episcopal Church. If accepted, they will be authorized for trial use in diosesan parishes and missions with the approval of the Bishop of each Diocese.

hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I am a crossword puzzle fan.

I always had trouble finding something stiff (like a magazine) to put the crossword puzzle on to give it support while I was solving it.

Then I got the idea that a piece of stiff cardboard would be just the thing.

Now I just cut the puzzle from the newspaper each day and attach it to the cardboard with a paper clip or two. After completing the puzzle I pull it off the cardboard and discard it.

I keep the cardboard handy for next day's puzzle.

Works just great!

Dear Heloise:

Do you ever light another cigarette when a good one is still burning in the ashtray?

To prevent doing this, I place my pack of cigarettes on the table, back of the ashtray that my burning cigarette is in.

When reaching for a new cigarette I notice the smoke of the one burning, and stop! Thus saving a cigarette for the next time.

Dear Heloise:

Now and then a good hint
I think I'll send in.
Only to read in your column
That it's already been.
Then I find another one.
So has someone else!
Next time, please Heloise
I'd rather do it myself!

Dear Heloise:

My husband figured out this one for me:

I had a small bottle of perfume for my purse and a large one for use at home.

No need to throw away the purse size container when it is empty — just use an eye dropper to transfer perfume from the large bottle to the small one.

Dear Heloise:

When you serve corn on the cob, melt a stick of butter and place it in a serving bowl with a pastry brush to apply it.

Saves time, mess, and much muttering from a hungry family.

Also saves wasting butter that I usually have to wash off every plate.

Dear Heloise:

I received a roll of scented drawer liner paper that is so popular, and found another cute use for it.

I used mine to wrap a birthday gift, tied it with ribbon to match the design, making it a fragrant and pretty picture. A pleasure to give and to receive.

SPECTATORS RING the entire fairway from tee to green at Augusta National Golf Club Sunday as veteran Ben Hogan tees off in the final round of the Masters tournament. Gay Brewer staged a stirring rally to catch the tourney leaders and win by one stroke over Bobby Nichols on the final day. (AP Wirephoto)

Brewer Captures Masters For Great Golf Comeback

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "Only great golfers win the Masters," said Bobby Jones to Gay Brewer. "That's why I'm happy you won it — you're a great golfer."

"I'm choking up," said Brewer.

"You don't choke and win this tournament," said Jones, the immortal Grand Slammer who founded this tournament and designed the Augusta National course.

He was right. Brewer didn't choke. Dubbed "the man who will never come back," he had lived for a year with the nightmare of a hanging putt that never fell.

He wiped out that dreadful memory Sunday in a sweeping charge over the lush green acres of Augusta National, coming from two strokes back, climbing over three men and winning the 31st Masters with a brilliant, five-under-par 67 for 280.

"I may be the happiest man in history to win the Masters," the graying, 35-year-old tour regular said after he had broken the seven-year stranglehold of the Big Three - Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player — on the prestigious event.

Nicklaus, three-time champion and winner of two in a row, failed to make the cut for the last two rounds. Palmer, a four-time champion, finished with a 69 for 285 and fourth place. Player, the little South African who won in 1961, finished with 71 for 287 and a share of sixth.

"The Masters is really something special for me," the six-foot, hard-hitting Brewer said, "especially afte last year. I really wanted to win this one. I wanted to prove to myself that I had it in me to do it."

Brewer, who had never before won a major tournament, came within a fraction of an inch of it in the 1966 Masters. He went to the 18th tee with a one-stroke lead and was on the green in two.

Needing only a par to win, he three-putted from 40 feet, leaving a five-foot par putt — the one that would have won it — hanging on the lip of the cup.

"He'll never come back," most observers said.

"I don't remember things like that," said Brewer. But history indicated otherwise. He didn't win another tournament that year, but finished second three times, twice losing in playoffs.

He was second two more times this year, third once and finally broke through a week ago in the Pensacola Open with a startling 262.

He had every opportunity to choke Sunday. He started off two strokes back of the leaders, Bobby Nichols, Julius Boros and Bert Yancey, and was paired with Nichols while Yancey and Boros were together.

Nichols finished with 70 and 281, one stroke back in second place. Yancey, the 28-year-old former West Pointer, had a closing 73 for 284 and third. Palmer was fourth and Boros fifth with a 75 for 286. Player and Paul Harney shared sixth at 287.

Palmer never really got his charge going.

He birdied the 11th and 13 to go two under. "But I missed a 12-foot eagle putt on 15 and a seven foot birdie on 16. If I'd had those, I'd have been five under and they might have been looking over their shoulders."

But they weren't. Neither were the leaders concerned with Ben Hogan, the 54-year-old all-time master who leaped into contention with a remarkable 66 in the third round. His hopes died on three straight bogeys in the early going and he limped in with a 77.

Celtics Keep Hopes Alive

BOSTON (AP) — Alex Hannum came to bury the Celtics but wound up praising them.

"The Celtics were magnificent," Hannum said after Boston's nationally televised 121-117 victory Sunday prevented a sweep by the Philadelphia 76ers in the Eastern Division final playoffs. The triumph kept alive the Celtics' faint hopes for a ninth straight National Basketball Association title.

But the 76ers, leading 3-1 as the best-of-7 series moves back to Philadelphia for a game Tuesday, were confident that the funeral oration will be delivered then.

"We expect to wrap it up in Philly," Hannum said in a dressing room interview shortened because of an earlier threatening telephone call. The threat was apparently by a crank, but the Philadelphia coach was given police protection before, during and after the game as a precaution.

"We won't be back to Boston," added veteran guard Hal Greer. "I don't think Boston can put games back-to-back like this one today."

The sellout Boston Garden crowd of 13,909 disagreed.

"We ain't dead," they chanted in retaliation to the cries of "Boston is dead" which ran through Philadelphia's Convention Hall last Wednesday night as the 76ers won their third straight game.

Sam Jones and John Havlicek led Boston's attack with 32 and 31 points, respectively.

Jones, the veteran backcourt star, came up with two big plays in the closing seconds — banking in a 10-footer to give the Celtics a 117-114 lead, then stealing the ball and cashing two free throws.

"Those were the key plays," Player-Coach Bill Russell said. "That was a real big game Sam played."

Russell's work against Wilt Chamberlain also was a factor. The 7-foot-1 Philadelphia superstar had 20 points and 10 assists, but was not as dominant as in earlier games and lost the rebound battle to the 6-foot-9½ Russell, 28-22.

Luke Jackson led the 76ers with 29 points and Greer had 28.

San Francisco's position did not look as good as that of the 76ers. The Warriors returned to San Francisco for the fifth game of their best-of-7 Western Division playoff tonight with only a 2-2 break against St. Louis.

Making matters worse, the Warriors might be without the league's top scorer, Rick Barry, who suffered a sprained ankle in the second quarter of Saturday's 109-101 loss in St. Louis and saw little action after that.

Coach Bill Sharman called Barry's status indefinite, but insisted that his club could win even if the high-scoring forward is unavailable.

Toronto Fashions Upset Victory Over Chi-Hawks

CHICAGO (AP) — Punch Imlach, elated over his Toronto Maple Leafs' surprise 3-1 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks Sunday night, couldn't resist taking a verbal crack at the star-studded Hawks.

"I understand they're going to have 10 guys on the All-Star team," said Imlach. "That's okay with me as long as we win the games."

The victory enabled the Leafs to even their best-of-7 Stanley Cup semifinal series at one game each but as Imlach said, "It was big, big big."

The scene now shifts to Toronto for games Tuesday and Thursday where a pair of Leaf victories would all but knock the National Hockey League champion Hawks out of the running.

Toronto took charge from the very outset and by the time the Hawks put on some pressure for about five minutes midway in the third period, it proved to be too late.

Pete Stemkowski put Toronto ahead 1-0 at 8:07 of the first period and at 18:33 Dave Keon scored a goal while the Leafs were short - handed. George Armstrong made it 3-0 in the second period on a power play, while Stan Mikita spoiled Terry Sawchuk's bid for a shutout with a goal at 8:45 of the final period.

Hawk Coach Billy Reay attributed the defeat to two key plays, both in the first period. Eric Nesterenko broke in on Sawchuk with a shot when the Toronto goalie swept aside.

"Had Nester scored, it might have been different," said Reay. "And when they scored while short-handed that really gave them a lift."

Bobby Hull, Chicago's Golden Jet, said his injured knee was no worse but "I'm still not scoring." Doug Mohns said his back ailment seemed better but he suffered another injury when he got cut by a stick above the right hip.

In the Montreal-New York semifinal series, which shifts to Madison Square Garden Tuesday night, the Rangers hope [illegible] will help them break into the victory column against the streaking Canadiens.

Montreal trimmed the visiting Rangers 3-1 last Saturday afternoon on third-period goals by John Ferguson and Ralph Backstrom after winning the series opener 6-4 with a five-goal burst in the last 11 minutes.

East Wrestlers Tip West Stars

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) —E Dave Porter of Michigan pinned the 1967 NCAA heavyweight champion, Curly Culp of Arizona State, and gave the East a 19-17 victory Saturday night in the first East-West All-Star NCAA wrestling tournament.

Porter, the 1966 NCAA champ, threw Culp in the final bout with a body press at 3:38. Porter, beaten in the 1967 NCAA quarter-finals, was trailing 9-3 on points when he pinned Culp.

George Radman of Michigan State outpointed Fred Fairbanks of Washington State 9-3 in the 167-pound class. Bob Fehrs of Michigan held two-time NCAA champion Rick Sanders of Portland State to a 2-2 draw in the 123-pound class for the only blemish on Sanders' record this seuson.

Lee Ehrler of UCLA upset NCAA champion Jim Kamman of Michigan 8-7 in their 152-pound bout, and Michigan State's Don Behm lost to Gene Davis of Oklahoma State 7-3 in their 137-pound competition.

Iron Rangers Win Playoffs At Marquette

MARQUETTE — The Marquette Iron Rangers led by king sized Wayne McCuaig, smashed two foes by convincing margins to capture their second consecutive United States Hockey League playoffs over the weekend.

Coach Oakie Brumm's skaters spilled arch rival Green Bay, 10-5, Saturday night with the 6 foot 4 inch McCuaig scoring a three goal hat trick.

Sunday night the Rangers bested Rochester, 7-2, with McCuaig punching home two more goals. Mike Greenleaf, homegrown Marquette player also had an outstanding series with four goals in the two games.

In the other series games Rochester topped Waterloo, 6-4, Saturday and Green Bay edged Waterloo, 7-6, Sunday.

Baseball Campaign Opens Today, President Is Doubtful Starter

By The Associated Press

The baseball season opened today with all the pomp and pageantry of a presidential hitter in Washington and the traditional National League first game at Cincinnati.

In Washington, the Senators entertained the New York Yankees, with President Johnson a somewhat doubtful starter to throw out the first pitch.

And in Cincinnati, the Reds hosted the National League champion Los Angeles Dodgers, who knew for sure they wouldn't have Sandy Koufax around for the first pitch.

The Dodgers, who rode Koufax' arthritic left arm to two straight pennants, sent Bob Miller, 1-2 last year, to the mound against the Reds' Jim Maloney, 16-8. Koufax, of course, has retired to the world of television.

President Johnson had a busy day planned in Washington and it wasn't clear right up until gametime (1:30 P.M. EST) whether he would be able to throw out the traditional first ball.

The Senators gave left-hander Pete Richert, 14-14 last year, the starting job against the Yankees' Mel Stottlemyre, 12-20.

The 16 other major league teams open their season Tuesday with four games scheduled in each league.

Pittsburgh will pitch Bob Veale, 16-12, at New York against the Mets' Don Cardwell, 6-6, a former Pirate.

Philadelphia opens at Chicago with Jim Bunning, the Phillies' ace at 19-14 last year, against the Cubs prodigy, Ken Holtzman, 11-16.

Denny Lemaster, 11-8, goes for Atlanta in Houston against the Astros' Mike Cuellar, 12-10.

San Francisco will pitch Juan Marichal, 25-6, against Bob Gibson, 21-12, at St. Louis.

Cleveland opens with Sam McDowell, 9-8, or Steve Hargan, 13-10, against Kansas City's rookie flash, Jim Nash, 12-1. Detroit sends Denny McLain, 20-14, against the Angels' George Brunet, 13-13, at California.

Minnesota opens at Baltimore with Jim Kaat, 25-13, opposing Dave McNally, 13-6. Chicago will have either John Buzhardt, 6-11, or Bruce Howard, 9-5, going against the Red Sox' Jim Lonborg, 10-10, at Boston.

The games at Houston, St. Louis, Kansas City and California will be played at night.

The exhibition season wound up Sunday with San Francisco capturing the mythical National League crown on a 17-9 record and Chicago taking the American League with 16-10. Both finished with victories, the Giants nipping California 7-5 and the White Sox downing the Chicago Cubs 6-3.

The New York Mets, who spent the spring avenging the National League against the Orioles, beat Baltimore for the fourth time, rallying for five ninth-inning runs and a 5-4 victory.

Kansas City rallied for three runs in the ninth with Jim Gosger's double driving in the winner for a 3-2 victory over Los Angeles.

Bob Allison's two-run homer in the 10th inning gave Minnesota a 7-5 victory over Atlanta.

Detroit nipped Boston 4-3 with Gates Brown's 10th-inning single delivering the winning run.

Bernie Allen drove in three runs with a single and triple, leading Washington to an 8-5 victory over St. Louis.

Sonny Siebert, George Culver and Dick Radatz combined for a two-hitter as Cleveland nipped Cincinnati 2-1. Billy McCool was the loser -- his sixth setback this spring.

Willie Stargell slammed a two-run homer in Pittsburgh's 6-2 victory over Philadelphia.

Charley Smith had a three-run shot for the New York Yankees who routed Houston 9-4.

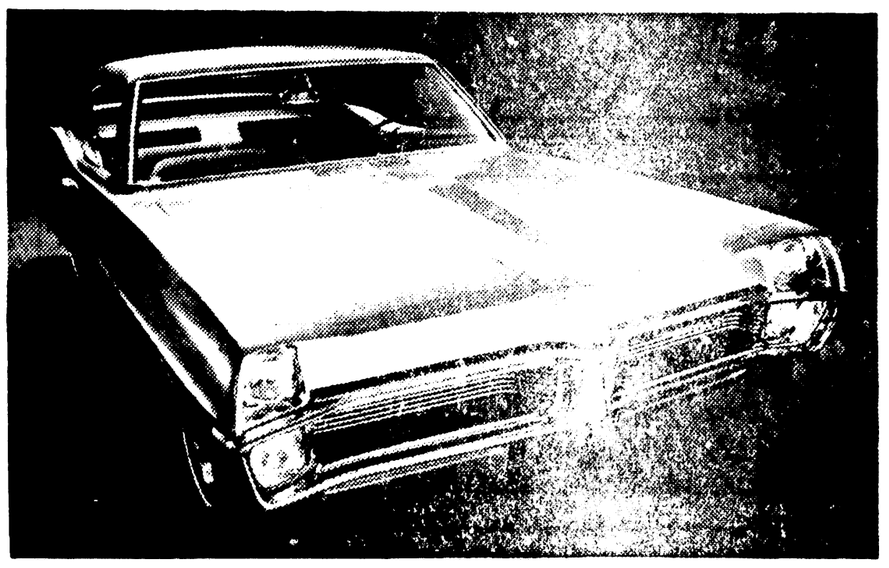
Before you can have great car deals, you have to have a great car.



Only Pontiac dealers have both.

Any time's a great time to buy a new Pontiac. With great names like GTO, Le Mans, Catalina, Firebird, Bonneville and Grand Prix, there's no such thing as a bad time.

But if there ever was an extra-great time to see your Pontiac dealer, it's right now. Because [illegible] asked him to let you write just about any kind of deal on your new Pontiac.

So, why settle for anything less? Get in on the [illegible] at your Pontiac dealer's today!

Gladstone News

Briefly Told

Members of the Gladstone High School class of 1948 will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Gladstone Library.

Job's Daughters, Bethel 7, will hold regular meeting and initiation at the Masonic Temple at 7 p.m. today.

The Homemakers Extension Club will meet at the Francis Londo home, 1412 Minnesota Ave., Tuesday after the Cancer meeting scheduled at the high school.

The Women's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church will present a program at the church at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Peggy Thomas, a missionary from France, will be the speaker and Mrs. Henning Johnson the hostess. The public is invited.

John J. Curtis, 1106 S. 15th St., escaped injury at 12:01 a. m. Saturday when his car left US-2-41 in Wells Township and rolled over. Curtis told State Police a car he started to pass pulled into his lane and he swerved to avoid it.

A breaking and entering at a farmhouse on Stonington owned by Art Smith of Jackson is under investigation by State Police. The breaking apparently occurred sometime in the past two months, officers said. It has not been determined if anything is missing.

State Police issued traffic summonses over the weekend to David L. Novak, Ensign, speeding; Elroy G. Derocher, Rte. 2, Bark River, no operator's license; Robert P. Cappaert, Rte. 1, Gladstone, no trailer registration plates; Bine Mary Sharkey, 305 S. 10th St., Escanaba, no registration or proof of insurance; Dennis M. Kozar, Rte. 1, Gladstone, twice for no registration or proof of insurance; James E. Joque, 1220 1st. Ave., S. Escanaba, no proof of insurance; Kenneth D. Lanaville, Rte. 1, Gladstone, speeding.

In Service

Pvt. Rodney P. Van Brocklin, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Van Brocklin Sr., N. 17th St. Gladstone, completed a seaman's course at the Army Transportation School, Ft. Eustis, Va. During the two-week course, he was trained in the operation, maintenance and repair of harbor ships and landing craft.

Pvt. Harold F. Ross, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Ross, 404 Delta Ave., Gladstone, completed a five-week aircraft maintenance course at the Army Aviation School, Ft. Rucker, Ala. He was trained in airfield operations and in servicing and repairing fixed and rotary-wing aircraft. His wife, Karen, resides in Rockford, Ill.

A U.S. Air Force supply inventory specialist from Gladstone, Mich., is a member of an airlift wing cited for setting an unofficial world's record for low-altitude airdrops by C-141 Lockheed Starlifter aircraft. Airman 2C David C. Ingebrigtsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Iver Ingebrigtsen of Rt. 1, Gladstone, supported the 437th Military Airlift Wing at Charleston AFB, S. C., in its recent test airdrop of 34 tons of cargo. The payload, a string of 28 loaded pallets connected by cables, was paradropped from a 500-foot altitude at 160 miles per hour. The cargo hit a 120-foot square bullseye on the Starlifter's initial flight over the target zone. The airman is a 1964 graduate of Gladstone High School.

Valiant Winner In Economy Run

DETROIT (AP) — Battling high winds part of the way and driving through rain for five days, Bob Checkley of Orchard Lake drove a Plymouth Valiant to victory in the six-day Los Angeles to Detroit Mobil Economy Run.

His average for the 2,837.8-mile trip was 24.57 miles per gallon on arrival in Detroit Sunday.

Three Plymouths Win

"It was the roughest of the five runs I've been on from the standpoint of weather, high winds and mountain driving," said Checkley, a Chrysler Corp. engineer. "But we had no real troubles. A fire on the Eisenhower Freeway in Chicago tied us up when bricks fell on the road."

The fire on Saturday delayed the cars. The distance driven from Aurora, Ill., to Chicago was not computed in the final tally. Actual distance of the run was 2,886.5 miles.

Plymouths won three of the seven classifications in the race, the first time in the event's 31-year history that one name plate won more than two.

Checkley edged his boss at Chrysler, Bob Cahill of Royal Oak, who averaged 24.29 miles per gallon in a Dodge Dart. Checkley credited his navigator, Bill Keller of Chelsea, for his performance.

"The navigators are the real unsung heroes," said Checkley. "They keep you on course and gauge the proper driving speed."

Such calculations are important, he said, because the run is based on car rally rules. Each car must cover a fixed distance each day, arriving at the next city in a set time.

41 Cars In Run

The 41 cars followed a route from Los Angeles to Lake Tahoe, then on to Salt Lake City, Denver, Omaha and Chicago before reaching Detroit.

Checkley took first place in Class A, for compact six-cylinder cars.

Scott Harvey of Detroit drove a Plymouth Barracuda to victory in Class B, for compact eight-cylinder cars. He averaged 22.32 miles per gallon.

In Class C, for intermediate cars with six-cylinder engines, the winner was Bill Levy of Anaheim, Calif., with 23.29 in a Mercury Capri.

Woman Wins

Allan Brooks of Los Angeles won the Class D title for intermediate cars with eight-cylinder engines, averaging 20.01 in a Plymouth Belvedere II.

A Chevrolet Impala SS, with Don Royer of Encino, Calif., at the wheel, took the Class E trophy for standard size, low price, eight-cylinder cars. He averaged 19.26.

Mrs. Marta Retzlaff of Barstow, Calif., drove a Buick LeSabre 400 to victory in Class F for standard size, medium price eight-cylinder cars. Her average was 18.74.

Class G, for luxury cars, went to Hart Fullerton of Sherman Oaks, Calif., driving a Chrysler 300 in 17.59.

HIGHEST WATERFALL

World's highest waterfall is Angel Falls, in Venezuela. The falls have a total height of 3,212 feet, more than 1,000 feet higher than any other known falls.

Grants Approved For State Medic Aides Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has approved grants totaling $464,505 for Michigan programs to train unemployed persons for careers in nursing and in the dental-assistant and medical-technician fields.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., announced approval of the programs by the U.S. Department of Labor under the Manpower Development and Training Act.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission and Vocational Educational department will conduct the three separate statewide training programs.

Bicycle sales in America totaled nearly six million in 1965.

Warren Chides Bar On Delays

DETROIT (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren says that "the judiciary and bar of this country must move into the 20th Century as far as judicial administration is concerned."

The chief justice told 500 celebrating the Detroit College of Law's 75th anniversary Saturday that in one state it takes six years to obtain a civil jury trial and in many others it takes four years.

"Such long waiting periods," he said, "constitute denials of justice."

And he added that it takes more than the simple addition of judges to cope with the problem.

The chief justice also chided the nation's law schools and bar associations for what he called their failure to upgrade the practice of criminal law.

"There is no more honorable thing than to protect a man who is innocent," he said. "But it's just not considered respectable for those of the elite to go down to the jailhouse to see a man to protect his rights.

"It is a great deficiency in our law schools and in our bar associations that we don't consider this honorable."

Warren also urged increased emphasis in law schools on the Bill of Rights, which he termed "the genius of our Constitution."

"No nation can survive," he asserted, "unless it can protect law and order, unless people can be safe in their homes and in their businesses. We have had great dereliction in this country.

"I feel that the law schools have been somewhat responsible for this. The bar itself has been partly responsible for it. We have downgraded the practice of criminal law."

Great stress on criminal law, the chief justice said, would help to "clean up some of these cesspools in our jails and in our courtrooms and get rid of hangers-on."

"I think," he added, "we should have greater indoctrination (in law schools) in the constitutional law. There is danger of us losing the spirit of our Constitution as has been done in many other countries."

Neglect of the Bill of Rights, he continued, could cause the document to become "a dead letter honored in the breach rather than the observance."

Dairymen Meet April 18 At MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—Some 200 Michigan dairy men are expected to attend the 23rd annual Dairy Fieldmen's Conference at Michigan State University April 18-19. The conference, sponsored by the MSU Dairy Department, will include discussions on new developments in dairy herd housing and factors involved in today's milk marketing.

Hoholik Heads Boy Scout Camp Fund Campaign

Frank S. Hoholik, president and general manager of Manistique Pulp & Paper Co., has been named general chairman of a campaign to raise $250,000 to provide a new Boy Scout camp for the Upper Peninsula.

The fund-raising campaign, which will cover the entire U.P., is the first in history for the Hiawathaland Council.

Camp Red Buck, which is leased from the Federal Forest Service and used by the council as a camp for many years will not be operated in the future due to inadequate facilities which would not be approved for a camp license.

The Scout Executive Board, rather than make improvements on leased property, has purchased the Wolfe Resort in AuTrain Township of Alger County. The site for the new camp covers 360 acres, including a 65-acre lake. Purchase followed inspection by the National Scout Council engineering service.

Assisting Hoholik and named honorary chairman for the drive will be Dr. Stanley W. Sundeen, a member of the Executive Board of the Hiawathaland Council and holder of the Silver Beaver scouting award.

Scoutmaster response to the new campaign has proved to be tremendous. Reservations for troop camp sites already exceed that of a year ago. The camp will be opened to the first troops on July 9. Basic facilities will be in place at that time.

The campaign has been approved by the National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America and the Board of the Hiawathaland Council. It will take place on three levels, including Basic or Leadership Gifts, General Teams, and Scout Families. The campaign will gain full momentum by May 1, with a target day of July 15, for completion of the $250,000 effort.

"This campaign will assure that a greater number of our boys will be able to learn, by doing for themselves, about those values which have made our community and nation what it is," said Charles Foreman, Scout Executive.

PSC Approves Mich-Wisconsin Stock-Bond Sale

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. has been authorized by the Michigan Public Service Commission to issue $10 million in common stock and sell $45 million in first mortgage bonds.

The Public Service Commission said today the firm plans to apply a portion of the proceeds from the transactions to its 1967 construction program, estimated at $65 million, and to use the remainder to retire short term outstanding notes.

The commission said the firm will sell 100,000 shares of stock, valued at $100 per share to its parent company, American Natural Gas Co. for cash. The mortgage bonds will be sold on a competitive bid basis.

Humphrey Trip Rates Success

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew home from Europe today reportedly feeling he achieved diplomatic successes despite the protests against the Vietnam war which captured much of his headlines.

Humphrey feels his two-week, seven-nation tour reassured European leaders that the United States is not turning its back on Europe despite its concerns in Asia.

Some observers believe he may urge President Johnson to make a similar trip. The vice president is understood to believe such visits improve personal relations between leaders who otherwise have to conduct their dealings through ambassadors and cables.

Shouting demonstrators threw things at him in Brussels, Rome, Florence, West Berlin and Paris but never hit him. The demonstrating groups were generally small.

Summing up before his departure from Brussels, Humphrey said:

"My visits here and to other Western European capitals have confirmed my belief that the enterprise and undertakings which unite Europe and the United States are of vastly greater importance than the minor differences which sometimes distract us."

Ruppe Asking Lakeshore Fund

Congressman Phil Ruppe said today that the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives has received the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore budget request for fiscal year 1968. The National Park Service has requested $800,000 for land acquisition.

"I think that this figure is inadequate," said Ruppe. "The Park Service made a commitment to the people of Northern Michigan when they authorized Pictured Rocks. Now they are obligated to do something about it, and I don't think that their meager budget request can be construed as 'doing something about it.'

"I propose that $1,200,000 be requested for land acquisition alone. This is still less than one-fourth of the total money needed for buying the entire park acreage.

"Aerial surveys and ownership data are now being made and collected so that we can move ahead as soon as possible when the money becomes available on July 1. I am hopeful that Congress will vote on the issue in late April.

"The cost of our war effort has limited funds available for federal programs," said Ruppe, "but I feel that we are obligated to follow through on previously authorized projects before we undertake anything new. Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore was authorized last year, not only as a conservation area, but also as a boon to the tourist industry of Northern Michigan."

Driver Strikes Lead To Lockout By 1500 Firms

which would raise the range to from $3.47 to $5.35 an hour. The carriers offered a 5 per cent increase.

Unofficial reports held that the employers and union were less than 10 cents an hour apart on wages but much farther apart on fringe benefits.

Move Vital Goods

Harvey L. Werner, president of Werner Transportation Co., and the Minnesota Trucking Employers Representative, said a nationwide shutdown could close 65 per cent of the businesses in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area. Gordon Conklin, head of Teamsters Joint Council 84 in St. Paul, said efforts would be made to move vital goods such as hospital supplies.

A Houston trucker forecast "quite a burden on the consuming public." A Florida executive said the stoppage might go on a week before it was felt.

In many areas, the tie-up was far from 100 per cent effective. A Florida trucker, for instance, guessed that it affected less than half the state's traffic.

But in other areas, truckers who are not federation members joined in closing operations.

Robert E. Short of Minneapolis, owner of Admiral Merchants Motor Freight, Inc., Minnesota's largest trucking firm, said: "We're not involved as a member of the group that's doing the locking out. But I don't see how we can stay open in light of a majority shutdown."

Protest Picketing

Reaction from drivers was mixed. The president of an 11,000-member independent drivers' union walked out of negotiations in Chicago saying, "We are on strike as of 6 p.m. I'm going to the picket line myself now." But Teamsters-affiliated locals involved in the session continued bargaining.

In some areas, drivers began protest picketing. "We're not on strike. We're locked out," read the signs in the hands of Cincinnati drivers picketing the McLean Trucking Co.

In others, union officials told their memberships to stand pat and collect their checks as if nothing has happened.

"We will have no part of Trucking Employers, Inc.'s vicious and unfair nationwide lockout," said Alexander Hyleck, a Providence, R.I., Teamsters official in a statement. "We are advising all our members to present themselves for work and assignment as usual and make a claim for call-in pay and guarantees if they are locked out."

Powers-Spalding

Pillow Lesson

All homemakers of the Powers-Wilson-Spalding area are invited to a lesson on making and buying decorator pillows for the home.

The group will view many kinds, including some for children and will discuss techniques in making, fabric choices and kinds of fillings. They will also view colored slides on interior decorating.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m., Wednesday, April 12 at the Powers High School. Miss Ingrid Tervonen, extension home economist, will be the instructor.

MOTORISTS MAY wish they were walking when they get to this intersection. North and southbound one-way segments of Cherry Street meet sign-to-sign at Lenawee. "No turn" signs seem to complicate matters even more, but those are for drivers on Lenawee. Cherry Street traffic may turn onto the intersecting street. The signs went up when Lansing rerouted traffic from a street closed because of expressway construction. (AP Wirephoto)

Korea Border Fights Erupt

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korean army patrols shot and killed four North Koreans in two gun fights on the western front today, army headquarters announced.

Both border clashes occurred within 20 miles of the gunfight last Wednesday in which U.S. 2nd Infantry Division troops killed at least four North Koreans, an army spokesman said.

There was no immediate report of any South Korean casualties in the incidents today.

The spokesman said the four North Koreans raised to 12 the number of Communist intruders killed by South Korean soldiers in four major border incidents this year.

The spokesman said a patrol encountered three North Korean intruders south of the demilitarized zone this afternoon. In a brief gunfight, the patrol killed one of the North Koreans and the other two fled into the heavy underbrush. The patrol pursued them for an hour and finally killed them both.

In the second incident, the spokesman said, one of two Communists was killed in a brief exchange of gunfire with another patrol south of the demilitarized zone. The spokesman said the other North Korean fled north, leaving his comrade's body.

Coppolino Case Expected To Run About Two Weeks

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — With the calling of state witnesses today, the prosecution plans to press its contention that Dr. Carl Coppolino murdered his first wife, Carmela, with a drug that leaves little or no trace.

A 12-man jury is expected to hear about two weeks of testimony in the 34-year-old physician's second murder trial in five months.

Coppolino was acquitted last December in New Jersey of murdering retired Army Lt. Col. William E. Farber. The latter's wife, Marjorie, 52, a key prosecution witness in that trial, is scheduled to testify also on the Florida charge.

Both murder charges stemmed from claims by Mrs. Farber that neither her husband's death in 1963 nor 32-year-old Carmela's in 1965 were natural, as they had been certified.

One Black Twin Has Black Record

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — "You're the one who's been found guilty in court seven times," said Municipal Judge Robert I. H. Hammerman to Abraham Black. Black denied it.

The judge pointed Saturday to the record, which included a birth record matching Black's. He fined Black $14 for disorderly conduct.

Then Elizah Black stood up and said he was actually the one with the record. He said he was Abraham's twin brother Abraham's fine was suspended and imposed on Elizah.

Key Figure In Highway Probe Gets New Job

LANSING (AP) — Ben Williams, a planner for the State Highway Department and a key figure in an investigation of the agency, began a new job today.

Williams, 45, was reassigned Saturday and ordered to work at the East Lansing office of traffic survey and analysis section of the traffic division. Williams said he is not qualified for the job.

"It's fairly obvious what they are trying to do," said Williams. He declined to elaborate.

The new assignment was made by highway Director Howard Hill.

Williams provided data to former Asst. Atty. Gen. Eugene Townsend Sr., which led to charges of misappropriation of public funds and illegal payments to a contractor.

Still unproved, the charges prompted a full-scale investigation of the department by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

Donald O'Brian Jailed In Texas

GRAND LEDGE (AP) — Donald O'Brian, wanted for questioning in the slaying of a 10-year-old girl, was in jail in Texas today, awaiting extradition proceedings to send him back to Michigan.

O'Brian, 40, of Pontiac, fled from the Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane two weeks ago. Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said he will be brought to Michigan to face an escape charge.

But O'Brian also had been sought by Grand Ledge authorities in the slaying of Rona Cypher, who was found raped and strangled April 1 in the Grand River, several hours after she disappeared while walking to her grandparents' house after a trip to a grocery store.

Another Ionia Escapee, Donald Ringler, 32, of Sturgis, fled the hospital with O'Brian. Ringler went to his mother's home, she called police, and he surrendered to officers Thursday.

Police Chief William Eveleth of Grand Ledge quoted Ringler as saying he knew that O'Brian had killed the girl, but other officers said there was some doubt as to whether Ringler could have known of O'Brian's whereabouts when the girl was slain.

O'Brian was arrested in Odessa, Tex., by six Odessa policemen. They said they received a tip that O'Brian was in Odessa.

Kelley said that if O'Brian waived extradition proceedings, he could be back in Michigan by the end of the week. There was no definite word on whether O'Brian would waive the proceedings.

Gun In Hand Foils Holdup

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Two men walked into a small neighborhood grocery store in Pittsburgh's Beltzhoover section Sunday and approached Margaret Kubisiak, 81, alone behind the counter.

"Do you wish to be waited on?" asked Mrs. Kubisiak.

One man pulled out a pistol. "No," he said, "I want money."

"No," replied Mrs. Kubisiak.

"I'm not fooling," he said.

"Neither am I."

"I've got a gun."

"So do I," she said, and pointed a tear-gas pellet gun at the man.

He and his companion left.

"I don't care for that type," said Mrs. Kubisiak later.

Oscar Program At 10 Tonight

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 39th annual Academy Award contest approached its climax tonight with "A Man for All Seasons" and "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" as the favorites to win.

Although "Virginia Woolf" scored 13 nominations, "A Man for All Seasons" appeared to have a slight edge to dominate the ceremonies at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium. The pageant of Sir Thomas More's martyrdom was nominated in eight categories.

Although negotiators announced a tentative agreement in the performers' strike against the television networks early today, TV broadcast depended on ratification of the agreement.

A source close to the union said: "Indications are that the Oscars on ABC-TV will be permitted to go if the tentative strike settlement is approved by the AFTRA national board. If it does not approve it, the strike will go on, but the Oscar show will not."

A continuation of the strike would reduce the audience from an anticipated 70 million TV viewers to 2,500 guests at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

The contest for best actor seemed almost neck-and-neck between Richard Burton of "Virginia Woolf" and Paul Scofield of "A Man for All Seasons" with the latter favored. Scofield came here from England for tonight's affair; Burton remained on a film location at Nice, France.

Burton's costar, Elizabeth Taylor, appeared to have a good chance to win her second Oscar. She was a last-minute dropout for the ceremonies, declining to leave her husband, Her principal competition, Lynn Redgrave ("Georgy Girl"), arrived from New York where she is appearing in "Black Comedy." She is a house guest of her sister, Vanessa, nominated for "Morgan."

Nearly all the acting contenders except Burton, Miss Taylor and Michael Caine ("Alfie") are expected to be in the audience for the ceremonies.

The cast of the extravaganza rehearsed with television cameras through the weekend on a waiver from the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

However, if AFTRA's strike is not settled by 10 p.m. EST showtime, the show will be seen only by the 2,500 guests at the auditorium.

"We rehearsed everything but Bob Hope's monologue," said producer Joe Pasternak.

At the ceremony Patrica Neal will make her first appearance on the Hollywood scene since the strokes that almost took her life in 1965.

Threat To Bomb President Turns Out To Be Hoax

DETROIT (AP) — A reported flier's threat "to bomb the President of the United States" turned out to be an apparent "complete hoax," according to Detroit FBI chief Paul Stoddard.

The reported threat came Sunday in an anonymous telephone call to the Wayne County sheriff's office.

Lt. Joseph Kovacs said the caller "told me that a man in a 1961 blue Mercury had a time bomb and was headed toward the airport."

When he asked which airline the bomber was taking, Kovacs said the man told him: "the guy has his own Piper Cub airplane with two blue stars on it." Kovacs said the caller told him the man was flying to Washington to 'bomb the President of the United States.'"

A teletype alarm quickly was sent to all metropolitan area, state and federal law enforcement agencies. More than 50 deputies on duty were assigned to check out the report.

FBI and Secret Service agents and deputies in adjoining Washtenaw County also joined in the investigation.

Washtenaw deputies found a plane at Willow Run Airport, 25 miles west of Detroit, meeting the description given by the annonymous caller. It was owned by a man with the same last name as that given by the caller, but the first names were different.

The owner quickly was cleared and shortly afterward took off on a flight.

Meanwhile, authorities halted all 1961 blue Mercurys traveling in the area and checked their registrations and drivers. No bomb or suspect was found.
